Message from the President

I would like to wish all PJC families a G'mar Chatima Tovah. May you all be sealed for a year of health and happiness. The Men's Club had a very busy September due to all the Jewish holidays falling very early on the secular calendar this year. First, I would like to thank our Men's Club ushers for helping out with our Rosh Hashana and Yom Kippur services. Thank you to Head Usher, Jeff Reis and his team, Al Karo, Steve Glasser, Rob Cohen, Jason Hymowitz, Noah Lerner, David Weinstein, and a special thank you to Barbara Berse, stationed at her dad's post at the main doors with his tallis and kippah.

We had a terrific "Welcome Back Bar-B-Que" on September 13th with a Hawaiian theme and live Hawaiian entertainment. There was a fantastic turnout of almost 90 members and potential members, and we gained a number of new members, as well. The success of this event was due to all the wonderful members who gave us their time and energy to help out. I would like to thank Gene Brickman for his drink creation based on the Blue Hawaiian cocktail and serving as our bartender. Thank you to our two chef extraordinaires, Al Karo and Jeff Miller for grilling those delicious hamburgers, hot dogs, and Hawaiian chicken. Thank you to our 2nd Vice-President, Mitch Kessler for donating the tasty macadamia nuts which were a big hit. Many of our members came down to help set up, serve, and clean up. Thank you Steven Adelman, Stewart Wasserman, Shea Lerner, Noah Lerner, Joel Moskowitz, and anyone I might have missed. A tremendous thank you to our 1st Vice-President, Stu Haimes, for helping set up, getting our Hawaiian plates and napkins, arranging the evening's entertainment, providing the Hawaiian music we enjoyed listening to and so much more. This event could not have taken place without you. We were also honored to have our FJMC President Aaron Altman and immediate past President Jay Steinmetz at our BBQ. A big thank you goes out to Bruce Elowsky for selling the raffles and to Allan Furman for collecting for Hatzilu.

On September 19th, the Men's Club constructed the Matilda "Babe" Karo sukkah in the western parking lot. A big thank you goes out to Stu Haimes, Stewart Wasserman, Steven Adelman, Mitch Kessler, Al Karo, Tom Atlas, Larry Danziger, Joel Moskowitz, Bruce Elowsky, Stu Forman, David Weinstein, Emily and Justin Weinstein, Jeff Reis, and Michael Chad. A very special thank you to Andy Skalka and Phil Trugman for all that they do in building a wonderful sukkah and always helping out with construction for the Patio Players shows.

Last, but certainly not least, I want to thank Jeff Kaden for all the work he puts in for making the golf outing a success. The August 2021 golf outing saw Men's Club members participating in playing golf and enjoying the Bar-B-Que. I thank Jeff for his flag sponsorship, his willingness to head this committee, and for all he does to make "Walk For a Cause" a huge success.

Our “Steak and Single Malt Scotch in the Sukkah” event was held on September 29th and was enjoyed by all. More details about this event will be in the November Hakol.

Looking ahead to this month’s events...First we have our annual “Meet the Candidates” Night on Tuesday, October 19th. This year it will be held on “Zoom” (as was last year) due to concerns about Covid 19. Our moderator will again be the wonderful Fred Skolnik. This marks 30 years that Fred has been chairing and leading this very important event and I wish to thank him, not only on behalf of the Men’s Club and PJC, but of the entire county. “Zoom” links will be sent out as the event gets closer. I also want to give a great big thank you to Fred and Arlyne for transporting the bags that were collected during the high holidays to Hatzilu. Fred and Arlyne are to be greatly commended for this selfless act of kindness and charity. And a big thank you to all those who gave food to help those in need.

On Sunday, October 31st, we will be having our Paid-Up Membership Brunch which will be held outside in a tent. We will have a delicious dairy meal with bagels, lox, cream cheese, etc. Raffle prizes will be available for purchase.

I am also asking all of our Men’s Club members to please come out to support a great synagogue event on Saturday, October 23rd, “Lara Hope and the Ark-Tones”. It’s going to be a fun evening.

The Patio Players have selected this year’s show which will be “Guys and Dolls.” More information to follow.

I wish to thank the Rice family for sponsoring our Tallis and Tefillin breakfast on Sunday, October 3rd in honor of their twin daughters bat mitzvahs. I would also like to thank Mitch and Liz Kessler for sponsoring our Tallis and Tefillin breakfast on Sunday, October 24th in honor of their 30th wedding anniversary. Mazel Tov to both families.

Finally, I would like to thank Merry Lewin for all the time and hard work she puts in to make the Hakol a reality each and every month!

I hope to see all of our members at the Paid-Up Membership Brunch on October 31st.

In Brotherhood,
Andy Bader

Counting on You?

Every nation seeks to know how many citizens it has, which can also inform the nation of the quantitative strength of its armed forces. In democratic countries, counting the nation also impacts on elections, and determines congressional jurisdictions in representative democracies such as the United States.

Israel conducted its first census on the 6th of Cheshvan, 1948. It found that 712,000 Jews and 68,000 Arabs lived within its boundaries.

Yet, Jewish tradition hesitates to count individuals. This reluctance has Scriptural origins, and in ancient times, conducting a direct census was avoided. Instead, all adult male Jews donated half a shekel annually, which was a back-handed way of counting the Israelite people (Exodus 30:12). The Torah warns not to count directly, “so that there be no plague among them...”

The Talmud (Yoma 22b) cites Rabbi Yitzchak’s assertion that counting Jews is forbidden. Rabbi Yitzchak learns this from a story regarding King Saul (Samuel I 11:8). Saul needed to know how many soldiers were in his army prior to a battle against Nachash the Edomite. Rabbi Yitzchak understands that each soldier presented a shard of pottery, so the pieces of earthenware were counted, rather than heads. Another source (ibid. 15:4) describes how each soldier brought a lamb to be enumerated. Maimonides (Laws of Daily and Additional Offerings 4:4) also prohibits counting Jews directly. The Talmud (Berachot 62b) notes that even school children are aware of this prohibition.

During the State of Israel’s 1972 census, rabbinic sages weighed in on the propriety of a census in a Jewish state. Rabbi Yechiel Y. Weinberg did not find any prohibition in a national tally, but another leading expert on Jewish law, Rabbi Eliezer Waldenberg found the census problematic. While Rabbi Isser Yehudah Unterman, Israel’s Ashkenazic Chief Rabbi in 1972, permitted participation in the census, the leadership of the Hareidi community forbade participation. Rabbi Weinberg argued that the names on the census form’s lines were being enumerated, not the people. He also felt that conducting a census fell under the rubric of national security, which takes precedence over almost everything else in Jewish law. Rabbi Weinberg also cited an opinion of Gersonides, which claims that after the original half-shekel donation, all subsequent national counts took place by counting names, not heads. In the Biblical book of Numbers (1:2 and 26:53) the text explicitly states, “according to the number of names.” Other sages suggested that the subsequent censuses were conducted with slips of paper (Rabbi Naftali Z.Y. Berlin, citing Arizal.)

In the 1983 Israeli census, as an accommodation to the objectors, the government removed the box on the census form which asked for the total number of people in the household. They also instituted that machines would conduct the count, not people.

Levi Eshkol

No leader wants to send troops to their deaths in battle. But facing the destruction of one's nation is a trial no leader should ever face. Israel's second Prime Minister, Levi Eshkol, stared that option in the face.

Eshkol was born Levi Yitzchak Skolnick in the village of Oratov, outside of Kiev, on October 25, 1895. He received a traditional cheder education followed by attendance at the Jewish gymnasium in Vilna. It was there that he became active in the nascent Zionist movement, leading to his making aliyah in 1914, where he helped build irrigation tunnels to bring water to the newly-created orchards.

He soon became active in the labor union, was a founder of the Histadrut, the National Federation of Jewish Laborers, helped found Kibbutz Degania Bet, which remained his life-long home, and joined the Haganah. He excelled in all areas.

At the time of Israel's establishment, in May 1948, Eshkol was appointed Director-General of the Ministry of Defense, and, beginning in 1949, while serving as the head of the Settlement Department of the Jewish Agency, made great contributions in absorbing immigrants and dispatching them to new agricultural farms. Later, he also served as Minister of Agriculture and Minister of Finance. Upon Ben Gurion's resignation as Prime Minister, Eshkol was elected party chair and became Israel's second Prime Minister, leading Israel's 12th Knesset in 1963. One of his first acts was to fulfil the wishes of Ze'ev Jabotinsky, a more conservative Zionist leader, to re-inter him and his wife in Israeli soil.

Importantly, Eshkol developed a close personal relationship with U.S. President Lyndon Johnson. When Israel's surrounding Arab neighbors, led by Egypt's President Nasser, ratcheted up the verbal and military pressure to war, Eshkol hesitated, despite the military leaders pushing to pre-empt the enemies. Eshkol stuttered through a national radio address on May 28, 1967, which empowered Israeli's enemies and caused great concern in Israel. Eshkol eventually gave the green-light to the plan to dispatch Israel's air force to bomb enemy aircraft while still on their runways, which enabled Israeli forces to repel enemy forces and gain territory in a six day battle, known widely as the Six Day War.

After the war, Eshkol's health declined. A heart attack on February 26, 1969 proved fatal. Eshkol received a State funeral and was buried on Mount Herzl and was succeeded by Golda Meir.

It's Mitzvah Time

In order to help our Jewish poor and elderly, please make a donation to Hatzilu. A volunteer from Men's Club will send a certificate to honor the name and the occasion you want. This is an ideal way to express a "Simcha" or "Sympathy" and help Hatzilu in their mission to help our fellow Jews and others in our community. Please e-mail Steve Glasser at: stevetg@aol.com or call him at: 516.938.3069 to order a certificate.

Sudoku Puzzle

Why Play Sudoku

Preliminary evidence suggest that staying mentally active may be associated with preservation of cognitive function. Science tells us that children and young adults may build up brain "reserves" by reading and undertaking mental challenges, and older adults can continue to build these brain connections through stimulating activities. In fact, building these cognitive reserves is a lifelong process in which some nerve cells (neurons) form, some die, and others interconnect. For more information, please visit brightfocus.org/ADR

Here's How It Works

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a Sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. the more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!
