FRONT DOOR SECURITY

To my fellow congregants:

As a part of maintaining a secure building at all times, especially when security personnel are not present (evening meetings and evening services), the front doors will no longer be open just prior to the start of a meeting or services. We will institute the policy below:

Commencing immediately, in order to gain access to the synagogue using the front entrance doors (again when there is no security personnel on site), everyone will be required to ring the video intercom button to the left of the doors. The doors will be unlocked by the remote control and you will be able to gain access to the building. For those requiring handicap access, an automatic door opener has been installed and the button is clearly marked. The right hand door will open by an automatic arm and close behind you.

Any questions or suggestions, email me: bhcpa@optonline.net.

Bruce Hymowitz

In case inclement weather causes PJC to cancel in-person services, we will notify you at least one half hour before those services in the following ways:

- 1. An email will be sent;
- 2. A message will be posted on the PJC Facebook page;
- 3. A voice message will be on the PJC phone (516-938-8610)

In the event that the in-person services are canceled, we will still offer livestream services.

Power or Internet outages may affect our ability to notify you. In that case use your discretion.

FROM THE RABBI by Rabbi Steven Conn

Hate makes no sense.

Hate can drive us to do things that are not in our best interest.

Hate can even lead to self-destruction.

Hatred is just as likely to destroy the hater as it is to destroy the hated.

The Purim story is about a lot of things; it is about courage and good fortune, about love and family. But the Purim story is also one of our tradition's deepest explorations of the hate that has been directed against our people ever since the beginning of our history.

Haman, the villain of the Purim story, is a classic antisemite. He is offended by the lack of deference shown to him by Mordechai. Haman takes away from this interaction with a single Jew the idea that all Jews must be like Mordechai, disrespectful of the laws of the land and the officials who make them. Haman's hatred for Mordechai quickly transforms itself into hatred for all Jews. In Haman's mind, all the Jews of Persia are traitors and troublemakers. They all deserve to die.

Haman turns to the people of Persia for help in killing the Jews. He issues a proclamation, which the king signs off on, instructing the people of Persia "to destroy, massacre, and exterminate all the Jews, young and old, children and women, on a single day, on the thirteenth day of the twelfth month—that is, the month of Adar—and to plunder their possessions."

Haman sends out his proclamation at least eleven months before the 13th day of Adar. No doubt, Haman wanted to give the royal messengers plenty of time to get the word out to all 127 Persian provinces. However, Haman also makes the classic movie villain mistake of giving his intended victims plenty of time to escape their predicament. By the time the month of Adar rolls around, Esther has revealed that she is Jewish, Haman is dead and Mordechai is a member of the king's court. Mordechai had even sent out an order in the king's name that "permitted the Jews of every city to assemble and fight for their lives; if any people or province attacks them, they may destroy, massacre, and exterminate its armed force together with women and children, and plunder their possessions—on a single day in all the provinces of King Ahasuerus, namely, on the thirteenth day of the twelfth month, that is, the month of Adar."

We might think that under the circumstances, even the most vicious Jew-haters would think twice about attacking the Jews of Persia. The Jews were ready to defend themselves. The king was on their side now. What chance could a disorganized, leaderless mob of antisemites possibly have under those circumstances?

Nevertheless, the enemies of the Jews attacked. And the Jews responded. “Throughout the provinces of King Ahasuerus, the Jews mustered in their cities to attack those who sought their hurt; and no one could withstand them, for the fear of them had fallen upon all the peoples.” According to the Book of Esther, the Jews killed three hundred of their enemies in the capital city of Shushan. “The rest of the Jews, those in the king’s provinces, likewise mustered and fought for their lives. They disposed of their enemies, killing seventy-five thousand of their foes; but they did not lay hands on the spoil.”

Hatred is a powerful force. The enemies of the Jews must have known they could not conduct their massacre as planned. The smart thing to do was not to attack the Jews. But hatred makes no sense. Hatred can make us do things that are not in our self-interest. Hatred can easily lead to self-destruction. The strength of the hatred felt by the Persian antisemites overwhelmed whatever common sense they might have had. They hung on relentlessly to their hatred even at the cost of their lives.

It is impossible to understand the events of October 7, 2023 except through the prism of hatred. It is impossible to understand what has happened in Gaza since October 7th through the prism of hatred. After years of repeated attacks on Israel, Hamas had to know that their October 7th attack would be repelled within hours. They must have known that the attackers would suffer heavy casualties. And they must have known that Israel would retaliate forcefully, putting the lives and property of every person in Gaza at risk. Yet Hamas and their fellow terrorists attacked Israel anyway. Their hate was so strong that they were prepared to sacrifice their own lives and the lives of many other Gazans simply for the chance to kill as many Israelis as they could before they were stopped.

In the first few months of the Israeli invasion of Gaza, tens of thousands of Gazans were killed and large areas of the Gaza Strip were rendered uninhabitable. Yet, even in the face of so many casualties, Hamas persisted in fighting. Eventually, more than a million Gazans were displaced. Gazans experienced malnutrition and an acute shortage of medicines. Hamas’s leaders were killed and much of its tunnel network destroyed. Still, Hamas broke the first cease fire agreement in December 2023 and continued fighting until January 2025. They may well resume fighting if the current cease fire lapses.

No rational leadership would choose to bring this kind of devastation and destruction upon the people it governs. To some extent, Hamas clings to power out of a concern for self-preservation. But the overriding motivation of Hamas is hate. Unadulterated, vicious hate has allowed Hamas to let Gaza be destroyed, to sacrifice tens of thousands of lives so that a few more Israelis can be killed or wounded. Like the ancient Persians who came out to attack the Jews, Hamas and its followers are ultimately doomed by the hatred they carry in their hearts.

Mordechai's decree to the Jews of Persia allowed them to kill not just those who attacked them, but also the women and children in their families. The decree permitted the Jews to take spoil from their enemies as well. But the Book of Esther tells us that the Jews killed only their attackers. They kill no "civilians." They took no spoil. The Jews defended themselves to the fullest extent necessary. But they did not let their anger or hatred of their enemies carry them away. They exercised restraint. They focused on the task at hand. They responded to hatred with strength and determination, but not with hatred of their own.

Our tradition recognizes how destructive hatred can be. As we contemplate the possibility that the war in Gaza may resume, we can only hope that Israel's leaders will continue to be motivated by reason and not by passion, that securing the safety of the people of the State of Israel will always be the guiding principle that determines Israel's response to acts of violence and hate.

A NOTE FROM THE PRESIDENT by STACY MEYERSON

Hello, Friends,

The year seems to be flying by as we are already in the beginning of March. Purim and Pesach are on the horizon. Don't forget the Men's Club's amazing show coming up (Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dream Coat) or the plentiful shalach manot bags organized and distributed by Sisterhood. We have our routine happenings in the Rabbi's Lunch and Learn series, Teen Social Action program, events sponsored by Men's Club and Sisterhood, morning and evening minyans just to name a few. There are also some new programs coming up to look out for in the PJ Library Shabbat dinner for families with young children, an author talk and book signing event with Michael Garb on his father's book Emerald Ark, Memories of a Jewish Irish Youth, a hamantashan making program, and a full-day Canasta tournament (information on all events is in the weekly emails).

While we continue to move forward living our lives day by day, I feel that I would be remiss in not mentioning that we also passed the 500th day of the hostages still in captivity and the news of the murders of hostages Shiri, Ariel, & Kfir Bibas and Oded Lifshitz. While we mourn these disgusting and inhumane acts, we must also commit to keeping their memories alive and standing up for Judaism and the State of Israel. Educate yourselves, speak with your children (adult, young adult, and child (age appropriate) and speak out to let others know that we will not go away. May their memories be for a blessing.

This brings me to the next section of this article in which I am taking personal liberty to write. Some of you already know that my daughter, Molly, is the president of the Hillel Chapter at the University of Connecticut this year. Unfortunately, there has been a lot of anti-Zionist and outright hateful activity brought up in student government. While Molly is definitely a Zionist and a proud Jew, she has been called upon this semester to rise above and beyond and lead the fight against BDS and anti-Zionist activities on campus. To say this has been stressful and at times traumatic is an understatement and I just want to give Molly a huge shout-out for educating herself, standing up and speaking out against hatred. For being a leader and representative for the Jewish and Zoinist population on campus and a defender of Israel. She is strong and brave and doing an amazing job representing herself, her values, and her community. Like off-campus communities, just because it is not headlining in the news anymore with protests and encampments, it does not mean that the issue on college campuses has gone away. It is even more dangerous when it is not out in public and a rallying call for all to respond to. We need to be aware and vigilant of the activities of our oppressors and respond accordingly. Thank you so much to all of you who have been asking about her and sending hugs and regards. Knowing that her PJC community stands behind her and supports her is so important to her. I love you, Molly!

Wishing everyone a warmer spring full of flowers. Regards, Stacy xoxo

Religious School - Michal Fruchter, Principal

Education is not the filling of a pail, but the lighting of a fire.” – W.B. Yeats

We know that education and learning are two of the most important ingredients to becoming our best selves. And education and learning don't just happen in the classroom.

At the PJC Religious School, we bring in special programming to supplement our curriculum. Our Vav class learned about Tefillin and different artifacts of Israel and Judaism from their homes. Lesson takeaways were to see and understand how to put on Tefillin and the importance of it as a Jewish boy and girl that will become Bar/Bat Mitzvah shortly.

Staff also challenge students to study and keep on practicing their prayers, not only at school, but at home. The Vav class, students learned the prayers in their Siddurs and also led the service for the World Wide Tefillin Wrap at PJC.

Family Friendly Friday Night Services

Hello everyone! On February 7th, we celebrated the Gimmel students on their receipt of their siddurs. Stay tuned for our next service this spring!

Shiva Set Up

A very special service that Sisterhood extends to our congregation is a shiva set-up for those who have, unfortunately, had a loss.

If you need this service, call the temple office to request the set-up. Dorit will contact us and we will discuss the different options with you.

A donation to Sisterhood to defray the cost of the set-up would be greatly appreciated.

If anyone is interested in helping with the shiva set-ups, please call the office and leave your name and number.

Thank you, Bunny Finkelstein

Moishe Houses and Moishe Pods are groups of Jewish young adults who live together and host programs for their community. Moishe Houses (locations with 3, 4, or 5 residents) and Moishe Pods (locations with 2 residents) exist to build community. Connect with your community and discover why so many call Moishe House home. SISTERHOOD NEWS

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE : Barbara Berse

The annual Sisterhood/Men's Club Shabbat was on Saturday February 8th. Thanks to Gene and Michele Brickman, Shea Lerner and all the participants it was a huge success. It was so nice to see so many members of Sisterhood and Men's Club participating in the service, or just in attendance. If you didn't have a part this year, there's always next year!

I was going to reprint my entire D'Var Torah for those people that were unable to hear it live. But, I decided to only give you the highlights.

"Today's Parsha, "Beshalach", is read on what is considered to be a special Shabbat, "Shabbat Shirah", "the Sabbath of Song". Just as we tell the story of Passover, "we were slaves, now we are free, let's eat", I wanted to use the Cliff Notes version of this week's parsha: "Moses leads the Israelites into the wilderness after their escape from Egypt, God sends manna and quail to feed them and miraculously produces water from a rock and Amalek attacks the Israelites and is defeated." But, I was told that wasn't good enough and I needed to be longer.

The Israelites left Egypt in a hurry and set up camps by the shores of the Red Sea. Pharaoh changed his mind and pursued the Israelites with his huge army. With the Egyptians on their tails, the only escape was to cross the sea. God tells Moses to raise his staff over the water. The sea splits to allow the Israelites to pass through. The Israelites were able to cross just ahead of the Egyptian army. After safely arriving at the other shore, Moses again lifts his outstretched arms and the sea quickly rushes back, drowning the Egyptian army. Now the Israelites can rejoice their freedom. Moses and the children of Israel sing a song of praise and gratitude to God. Miriam leads the women in song and dance to celebrate their faith in God and their freedom. In the wilderness, the wandering Israelites constantly complained to Moses about running out of food. Moses tells them to believe, and God will provide them with food. He causes manna to rain down from the heavens before dawn each morning, and quails to appear each evening. The Israelites' journey continues, and along the way they were attacked by the Amalekites. Moses sends Joshua with an army to defend the Israelites, and after a long battle, the Israelites are victorious. Although the Israelites faced numerous hardships during their journey, with Moses' leadership and their faith in God, they were able to continue on their journey through the wilderness to the promised land." See what you missed?!

You are invited to attend Sisterhood's monthly meeting on Sunday the 2nd at 10:00am for a morning of Chair Yoga. There has been some discussion on having more meetings on Sunday mornings, rather than Tuesday nights. Sisterhood has always met on Tuesday nights. We have several meetings on Sundays, especially in the cold, winter months as well as our Women's Seder. With the increasing number of our members who can't drive at night, having more Sunday meetings is an option for those individuals who otherwise could not attend. Please let me know your opinion on increasing the number of Sunday meetings.

I hope you remembered to place your order for Shalach Manot for Purim. We will be packing on Sunday March 9th at 9:30 am. Come down and lend a hand. The more the merrier and the quicker we can get the job done.

Hopefully everyone planning to attend our Canasta Tournament has already signed up - it is on Tuesday evening, March 4th.

Mark your calendar for our upcoming events:

Book Club meeting on Wednesday March 19th at 7:30pm. The book for our discussion is "Time and Again" by Jack Finney. Even if you haven't read the book, everyone is welcome to join us anyway to hear what it's all about.

We have the Debbie Zaglin z"l Memorial Mahjongg Tournament on March 26th

Our Women's Seder is on Sunday morning March 30th.

There will not be a general meeting in April.

I look forward to seeing you at any of these activities. (Flyers for these events are in this issue of Orbit.) Barbara Berse

PROGRAM Rose Weiner - Program Vice President

EDUCATION Michele Brickman - Education Vice President

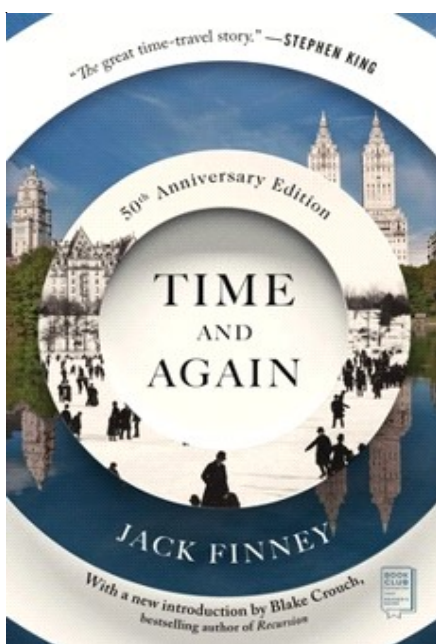

You can buy your tickets now for the amazing Torah story being acted out in our very own PJC stage in March. Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat, by Andrew Lloyd Weber is one of the best shows we have ever put on. It is playing on March 8th, 9th, 15th and 16th, Saturday evenings and Sunday afternoons.

This fantastic musical with great singing, dancing, costumes, sets, actors and a terrific score, comes from the original story in the Book of Genesis. In the story, Joseph, the favored son out of 12, was given a special “coat of many colors” by his father, which instigated jealousy among his brothers. It led them to eventually sell Joseph into Egyptian slavery after plotting to kill him. The 11 brothers then presented the blood-stained coat to their father, Jacob, making him believe Joseph had been killed by wild animals. We should remember how Joseph ultimately became a favorite worker of Pharaoh and a high-ranking official in that government. So much for a yiddeshe cup and big brains—LOL! The brothers go back to Egypt years later and do not at first recognize their brother in royal Egyptian clothing. The plot unfolds and becomes a mesmerizing and passionate story that is the longest one in the Torah.

Be sure to see it. It will thrill you and send goosebumps down your arms. Not just because I am in the show, but mostly because of an outstanding cast and crew who have been working all winter to bring the Plainview Jewish Center this marvelous production. Buy tickets at www.bitly/plainviewjoseph or call 516-938-8610.

MEN'S CLUB by Stuart Haimes

February was another great month for Men's Club. We began with the Men's Club/Sisterhood Shabbat on Saturday, February 8th. I want to extend a heartfelt thanks to Gene Brickman for organizing the Men's Club's portion of the service. This includes assigning all the readings, prayers, haf-torah reading, torah related honors, etc. To Geno, a job well done!

Just a few days before the Super Bowl on February 9th, we sold out our Super Bowl Pools. We were fortunate to sell two complete grids. Many thanks and yasher koach to our 2nd Vice President, David Dender for coordinating the pool and making sure everyone was paid in a timely manner. Congratulations to Howard Lampert, Andrew Meyerson, Stacy Meyerson, Stu Wolf, Shea Lerner, Andrew Bernstein, Mike Chad and an undisclosed member of the Dender family. Thanks for supporting this valuable fundraiser and making it such a great success.

Also on Sunday, February 9th, we had a great turnout of many Men's Club members to assemble the set pieces for our production of Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat. Likewise, on Sunday, February 16th, the crew came forward again to erect our stage extension.

Later in the afternoon on Sunday, February 16th, seventy-five people gathered for our dinner/movie night. Dinner was a simple combination of pizza, pasta and salad. Many, many thanks to Jeff Kaden for his selection of White Bird as our feature presentation. You could hear a pin drop as everyone's attention was directed toward the screen and was fully engrossed in this compelling story. While not a true story itself, the movie was a telling of many survivor's similar stories.

As we closed out the month of February, our focus has turned to putting the finishing touches on Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat. I hope you have your tickets by now! If you do not already have tickets to the show, I highly encourage you to get them now. You do not want to miss this Patio Players Production. As you know, the telling of Jacob and his twelve sons is read in the torah in December. Our cast and crew is excited to act out this story for you in person and in full technicolor! The production features a seven piece orchestra, professional lighting and sound and an amazing cast who will sing and dance their hearts out for you!

In just a couple of weeks we are celebrating Purim. On Thursday, March 13th, we will gather once again to tell the story of the victory of the Jewish people over the evil Haman. We will enjoy hamantashen and Men's Club will once again sponsor the make-your-own sundae party with all the toppings. Dress in costume and be prepared to have a great time.

We are now in the month of March. With any luck, the coldest weather is behind us and warmer days are not too far away. Personally, I look forward to getting outside, working in my back yard and sprucing up my house for the spring and summer season. Fishing season will soon be here and I look forward to that as well. Whatever you enjoy during the warm weather months, please do it in a safe and healthy manner. Get outside, take a walk, ride your bike and before long I will see you at the Plainview pool!

In brotherhood,
Stuart P. Haimes, President

HOW TO SAVE ON YOUR PJC DUES AND MORE!

Dear Congregants,

I am pleased to share with you that your Board of Directors has approved the use of Gift Card Purchases to offset your financial obligations to Plainview Jewish Center. Here's how it works:

- Purchase gift cards at the PJC Office.
- Use cash or check to make purchases and 2% of your purchases will automatically be applied to your financial obligations (Dues, Kol Nidre Appeal, Journal, etc).
- Participating vendors include ShopRite, CVS, Starbucks, Macy's, The Gap, Cheesecake Factory, California Pizza Kitchen, Bed Bath & Beyond and many more.

Purchases by credit cards for this special program cannot be applied. This will not affect the payment of the balance of your dues or other balances for which credit card payments will continue to be accepted.

Gift Cards can still be purchased by credit card. However those credit card purchases will not be applied to reduce your financial obligations.

If you have already fulfilled your financial obligations for the current year, you can still take advantage of this new Voluntary Financial Obligation Offset Gift Card Purchase Program by purchasing the gift cards and having the applicable amount reduce your future obligations. Additionally, I am delighted to announce that there has been no limit placed on this program. Buy as many or as few Gift Cards as you like. For every dollar purchased through this program, two percent will be applied to your financial obligations.

PSSST! IT'S OKAY TO TALK ABOUT OTHER PEOPLE

Respecting others' privacy is an important Jewish value. Lashon HaRa—gossip—is uniformly condemned by our tradition. But there is at least one exception. When someone is ill or in need of care and support, it is a mitzvah to tell people who can help.

In our community, the Rabbi provide pastoral support to individuals and families who are suffering illness and those who need emotional support. The Rabbi also serves as the liaison to our newly formed Bikur Cholim Committee; which provides additional visits and support to those who request it.

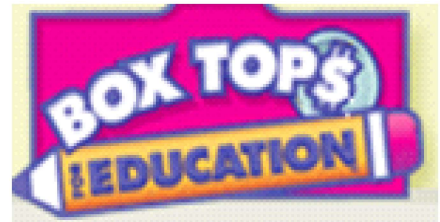

Please let the Rabbi know when someone in our congregation is ill; or when a family is dealing with a crisis. Only when they know can they reach out to individuals and families in need. Only when they know can they mobilize our Bikur Cholim committee to provide additional support. Don't worry that they might already have the information. Don't worry that you are "bothering" these busy people. The information you provide will be vital to helping our congregation to serve the needs of those who need us the most.
